Pray and Do Not Be Afraid

We must contain ourselves in patience, remembering each morning that our main job is to love God and to serve him and if we don't get things done due to interruptions, well, it cannot be helped, and God will take care of what we leave undone. But a tranquil spirit is important. Saint Teresa says that God cannot rest in an unquiet heart. I have to remember that many times during the day.

What if everything goes to rack and ruin? We can only do what we can to make order, but in the long run it's ourselves we have to look after. So daily Mass, and meditation, and spiritual reading. What about an extra fifteen minutes after Mass? It will help and the house will not fall apart. You may be distracted, you may be in a frenzy about the work to do, you may want to get to the post office, but the very effort of will holding you there is a prayer.
