CHOOSE LIFE! Please pray for the sick and suffering.

People cry over animal abuse commercials, so why don't people cry for babies who are aborted? They are just as helpless as the animals, but they are humans - flesh and blood. Today's society has misguided sympathies.

A CHAT WITH ST. VALENTINE

You know, St. Valentine, instead of sending cupids & candy hearts on your feast day, we ought to ask you to teach us something about your kind of love. Our ideas about it can get so confused.

As Christians we know that love is from God. The Gospels show us that one of the great revelations of Christ's life was that the love of God & the love of neighbor are one love, not two. We love because we are children of a God who loves. And we must love as He does: freely, generously. Such love implies much real service, untiring kindness, unconditional availability.

But, heaven help us, St. Valentine, that 's a large order!
We need people like you to remind us that it can be done. And forgive us for thinking, sometimes, that the martyrs got off rather easily: one big whack & it was all over, while the rest of us have to face a lifetime.

Come on, then, St. Valentine, help us in this life-long business of learning love. Make us realize and remember that:

- Christ never said love was an easy or safe thing. It will make us vulnerable, just as He was made vulnerable. Love is a risk. It means that we'll be the ones who have to take the first step, hold out our hand first.
- we draw closer to God by accepting the suffering that is part of all love & offering it to Him, not by arming ourselves against it like human porcupines.
- love isn't the power to dominate, but the power to communicate ourselves, as our Lord communicates Himself to us. God, after all, began His relations with man by coming as a child.
- we don't love God more by loving others less. He uses our human relationships to bring those who don't yet know Him a knowledge of His love. It doesn't do much good to tell someone lonely or dejected or suffering that God in heaven loves him. He wants to see God's love in our love now.
- loving people means accepting them, believing in them, calling out the best in them. Not concentrating on their defects, but nourishing the growth of generosity toward God & others in them, as we would protect a candle flame from the wind.

After an assignment like this, St. Valentine, you must be thinking that I've never heard that heaven is supposed to be a place of eternal rest. But that rest isn't inertia, & what are patron saints for if not to help? If your love on earth was powerful enough to make you sacrifice your life, what must be its power now!

Have a heart, St. Valentine, and help us get ready for God & for that heaven of His which is ALL LOVE!
~ Sister M. Dolores Downing, O.S.B.
